

Guiding You Toward a
Highly Successful Career Change
to Impact the Rest of Your Life

Kevin Tucker, M.A., CCM, SHRM-CP
The Career Transition Coach

Executive Transitioning – VIP Intensive Client Case Study

Situation

Harold R. was a senior financial executive who had been with his employer for over 20 years, rising from the junior ranks to taking on some of the most important projects for the company in a leadership and executive position.

The sale of Harold's division had resulted in the new owner not needing everyone and making his position redundant. Harold had been a loyal employee, never needing to find alternative work, interview with other companies or even have a resume. With at least another 15 years or work ahead of him he needed help in understanding the current job market and being fully prepared.

Coach Kevin Tucker

Coach Kevin Tucker was brought in by Harold's former employer to work with him on understanding his strengths, communicating them in written and verbal formats, applying for jobs and handling the technology side of job searching, preparing for interviews, networking and ultimately negotiation using the VIP Intensive package.

Result

After a 4 month search Harold was able to secure a similar role as his previous one with another local company and even enjoyed an increase in his overall compensation.

"I feel fortunate that my employer cared about me to help me make my transition. I feel blessed to have found coach Kevin Tucker to help me." -Harold R., Chief Financial Officer, Denver, CO

"A career transition can be a difficult and confusing time. I feel very fortunate to have Kevin Tucker for a Career Coach. He is empathetic, knowledgeable, encouraging and responsive in every aspect of my outplacement development. I can always count on his expertise, advice and judgment. Kevin helped turn a time of crisis into an experience of goal setting confidence and accomplishment." -Terry A., FACHE, Terry A., Chief Executive Officer, Little Rock, AR

© 2018-Kevin Tucker, MA, portions excerpted from his upcoming book "Putting Passion to Purpose". © Tucker is a Credentialed as a Master Career Director (MCD) and trained through the Coaches Training Institute (CTI). Since 1999, he has been teaching/coaching people to: make changes in their current job to make it more meaningful, to know their strengths and weaknesses, and to break free from being stuck in a job that limits them financially or emotionally. To book Kevin for your next conference, seminar, or retreat or hire to him as your career coach to improve your career and life, call 619.375.8239 or e-mail: Kevin@CareerTransitionDevelopment.com. Visit CareerTransitionDevelopment.com for more information, free advice, and a variety of coaching packages tailored specific for you.